Minstrel Success; Repeated Tonight

Getting off their puns and songs in excellent manner, the William and Mary Minstrels made their first appearance of the season last night in Cameron Hall. The performance, which is being given for the benefit of the Monogram Club, will be repeated tonight at 8 o'clock.

Probably the biggest feature of the show is the well-trained chorus, numbering fifteen. The opening number is really a masterpiece of old Southern minstrelsy, while the mixture of the great songs of yesterday with popular ballads of the present, give a most pleasing effect to the audience. Included in the first act are solos by several members of the chorus, some of which are:

"Somebody Stole My Gal"—H. Bowman.

"Dream Daddy"—Raymond Andrews.

"Call Me Back, Pal O' Mine"—"Dicky" Charles.

"It Ain't Goin' To Rain No More"—"Snook" Elliott.

"Mother O' Mine"—Irwin.

"She Wouldn't Do What I Asked Her To"—Wynne.

Good jokes and other work of the end men serve to keep the whole group in constant motion and full of pep. These positions are held down to perfection by "Al" Hoozier, "Junie" Hord, "Snook" Elliott, H. Bowman and the Wynne brothers. William E. Bull presides over the whole in capacity of interlocutor.

Among the additional features of the show might be mentioned the eloquent preaching of "Junie" Hord to his flock of lost black sheep, several

SPEAKS TOMORROW.

HON. J. J. LENTZ

Who Will Deliver the Address at the Jefferson Birthday Celebration Tomorrow.

Observe Jefferson's Birthday Tomorrow

An address by John Jacob Lentz, of Columbus, Ohio, President of the American Insurance Union, will be the feature of the Jefferson Birthday exercises to be held at the College tomorrow. Mr. Lentz will speak in the gymnasium of Jefferson Hall at twelve o'clock.

Mr. Lentz has been prominent in public affairs for a number of years. He began his career as a public servant by teaching in the public schools of his native county, Belmont, Ohio. After earning enough money to attend college, he entered the University of Michigan, where he graduated in 1882 with the degree of A. B. He later attended Columbia University, where he received the degree of LL. D. in 1883. He represented his people in Congress for four years, but was defeated on

Literary Magazine Needs More Copy

Contributions to the Literary Magazine have been few and far between, according to statement of E. Welford Brauer, Editor. The Magazine will make its appearance on time provided those students in College who are inclined to write will submit their efforts to the editors for use in the book.

There will be two more issues of the Magazine, one to appear this month, and one in May. The copy for the April issue has gone to the printer, but there is still a great need for short stories, essays and verses for the May edition.

As an incentive to produce, the attention of students is called to the numerous prizes and scholarships offered for work in the Magazine, and to make the last issue of the Magazine a good one, the editors are anxious that as many articles as possible be submitted so that the Magazine may contain only the very best quality of literary work.

Alumnus To Appear Here Concert May 6

Among the events scheduled for the Spring Quarter, a feature which should be of special interest to students and alumni of the College, is the appearance in concert at the College on May 6 of J. Foster Barnes, a student here from 1910 to 1914.

While here Barnes was a member of the William and Mary quartet, along with "Pipe" Wright, Sam Crawford and Harry Van Horne. The quartet was known all over the State, and appeared in many cities and towns in Virginia. Barnes, while at College, sang many solos in the local churches.

Leaving William and Mary, he went to Richmond, where he became a student in Richmond College, later going to Emory University, where he received the Master of Arts degree. While attending Emory, Barnes was employed as baritone soloist in local churches, and was the highest paid soloist in Atlanta.

He studied in Europe in 1922, and since returning to America has represented the States of North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida in the National Federated Musical Contests, in one of which he won a scholarship to study in Chicago under Richard Hageman. At the end of his attendance there, he sang the leading man's part in "Thais," accompanied by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. He is now baritone soloist and Director of Religious Education in the First Presbyterian Church, of Greensboro, North Carolina.

Barnes comes to Williamsburg through the efforts of the Williamsburg branch of the American Association of University Women, who experienced difficulty in arranging a date with Mr. Barnes, due to the great demand for him to appear in concert throughout the South.

S. School In France Rapidly Filling Up

The William and Mary summer school in France, instituted this year by President J. A. C. Chandler as a branch of the regular William and Mary summer school for the benefit of students wishing to study abroad during the summer months, has reached and exceeded the quota originally set for enrollment.

The group under the direction of Dr. C. C. Fichtner, professor of economics at William and Mary, was at first fixed at a maximum number of fifteen men. Later, however, owing to the number of men applying for places in the school, the quota was raised to twenty-five men.

The men selected for places in this first William and Mary school abroad are chiefly upper-classmen at the college, although a number of students and graduates of other colleges have been admitted.

The party as now organized, will be composed of Dr. C. C. Fichtner; W. L. Bland, of West Point; E. W. Brauer,

Indians Come Back To Defeat Parsons

William and Mary's nine won a close game from the Union Theological Seminary last Monday afternoon by the score of 6 to 5. A slow drizzle hampered the players and ran the spectators to the grandstand after the fifth inning, but made the contest none the less exciting.

The honors during the first few "frames" belong to the visitors and it seemed as though it was their game until the eighth inning rally by the Indians, which netted them four runs and put them in the lead. The "Preachers" tied the score in the early ninth, but the home team was easily able to bring in the additional run necessary to put them in the lead.

Easter Hops Coming

The Old Dominion Orchestra, of Richmond, will furnish the music for the William and Mary Easter Dances to be held in Jefferson Hall Gym., April 25 and 26.

According to Frank Nat Watkins, President of the Cotillion Club, practically all arrangements have been completed to make these dances one of the most brilliant events of the social season. Due to the baseball game with the Savage School on Saturday afternoon there will be no dansant. Attention is called to the notice printed elsewhere in the Flat Hat regarding invitations.

May Day A Feature Of Spring Program

A meeting was held last Friday afternoon in the Jefferson Hall gym to discuss the prospective organization of the May Day Festival, to be staged Saturday afternoon, May 17. The department of Physical Education, with the co-operation of the other girls' organizations on the campus, plans to make this an annual gala affair in the future of William and Mary. It is the object of the athletic department to interest as many women students as possible in this event and to incur their co-operative endeavor.

This May Day celebration is under the direction of Miss Wales, physical instructor of women, and she hopes to make this affair characteristic of the spirit and life of William and Mary. All women students who are interested in this affair, please see Miss Wales immediately.

Notice To Varsity Babe Ruths

Mr. Lacy, the Manager of the Palace Theatre, offers a pass to the Palace for the remainder of the session to the first member of the William and Mary varsity team who knocks a home run, either at home or abroad.

W.-M. Drops Opener To Roanoke By 5-2

William and Mary opened its home season last Wednesday in a typical early spring game, losing to Roanoke College in a slow, listless affair by the count of 5 to 2. Burch, on the mound for Roanoke, was master of the situation until the last frame, when a rally netted William and Mary four hits and two runs.

Both teams garnered eight hits, many of which were for extra bases, but Roanoke's drives came at opportune times. Green, who started on the hill for William and Mary, was unable to make a creditable showing, due to the wretched support of the infield. Frequent errors allowed all but one of the runs scored by Roanoke in the first three and a half innings. He was relieved by Taylor, who took the mound with two out and two on. From that time on the visitors were unable to score a hit.

The Indians made a desperate attempt to win in the last inning, counting two runs, but the rally fell short when Todd struck out with the bases filled.

The outstanding feature of the game was the superb hurling of Roanoke's ace, Burch, who struck out 11 Indian batsmen. Parsons played a spectacular game for William and Mary, pounding out two of the longest hits of the game.

Beginning April 27, evangelistic services will be held in a tent pitched on the back campus. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. O. C. S. Wallace, of Baltimore, Md., and will continue through May 4.

According to Dr. H. E. Cromer, who has the services in charge, the matter of supporting the meetings has been presented to practically all the organizations in College, and all have approved.

It is the goal of the committee in charge, according to Dr. Cromer, to have a complete attendance of stu-

SPORTS

CINDER-DIAMOND

Now that the old national sport is fairly under way, several heretofore unknown stars are beginning to break through. Judging from his first three starts, Parsons, whom we thought was just a first-class one-letter man, is certainly showing the world, especially the opposing teams, that he is another slugger of the old school. Not only hitting with the best of them, he has made some of the prettiest running catches seen in the outfield. Coach Tasker has certainly uncovered a real outfielder in this husky football star. Another man from the past year's scrub team who has to be handed the old recognition, is Lefthander Elmore. He has worked in two of the three games played, and in both instances has demonstrated his ability to turn back the opposing tide. His work in the game with the Preachers Monday certainly looked good, as a few more good pitchers added to our staff will greatly increase the strength of our team, especially on trips.

The first game was lost to Roanoke on account of the lack of the old necessary punch at the opportune moment. With Captain Chandler and Saffelle in the line-up that day, probably our slate would still be clean.

Last year's combination in the infield will be hard to beat, but Coach Tasker has been combing his squad for good infield material and the present combination of Moss, first; Denton, second; Hicks, shortstop; Westbrook, third, is beginning to look pretty good. Give these boys a couple more weeks of playing together and you will see a real infield.

With Captain "Scrap" Chandler back in the game, the outfield is going to be stronger than last year. Chandler, Todd and Parsons present a fielding and hitting combination that is hard to beat.

Although the new diamond is slightly in the rough at the present, it is going to be one of the best in the State in a few more weeks. The large outfield gives the fielder more chance than the old Cary field.

Coach Jones has been working his track men into shape the last two weeks and is pointing hopefully towards the practice meet with Camp Eustis next week. The team should be stronger in the running events this year than last, but the loss of "Tighty" Moore, "Buck" Young and "Doc" Rangley will be greatly felt in the field events. Coach Jones will probably have to hold his time trials at the fair grounds, as at the present there is no adequate track at the college.

Positions on the tennis team are being hotly contested. The schedule this year, although not completed, promises to be one of the best ever attempted here. Home matches have been arranged with Colgate and Virginia.

Indians Walk Away With Va. Medicos

William and Mary swamped the Richmond Medical College Saturday, on the new athletic field by the score of eighteen to two. The Indians showed a complete reversal of form over their first appearance of the season and exhibited a good brand of ball.

Coach Tasker placed a rejuvenated infield on the field and the team looked one hundred per cent better. Moss played first base like a veteran and "Andy" Westbrook showed that he can handle the hot corner.

The Medical College team could not solve successfully the pitching of Taylor, Elmore and Griffith. Taylor and Elmore showed up especially well, the former making three hits for a perfect average, besides pitching well. Hicks also played a great game and showed that he is rapidly getting in his old stride. Parsons did some heavy slugging for William and Mary.

Pulley, Temley and Lee were the leading hitters for the Medical College. The visitors scored their only two runs in the fourth inning.

Hancock Is Chosen Captain of Track

At a meeting of the track team held recently, Hugh T. ("Red") Hancock, of Richmond, was chosen captain of the team to succeed "Tighty" Moore, who withdrew from college.

Hancock is a senior and has been a member of the track team for the past two years. He represented the college in the winter inter-collegiate relay races against Richmond and in meets in Baltimore and Washington.

He is also a promising candidate for the tennis team.

An Extract

The following extract is reprinted from a recent issue of the Richmond News-Leader:

"Apparently J. O. Strickler, a student at William and Mary, doesn't favor the development of college teams, instead of athletics for the student body en masse. He writes, in part:

"Who will be the first to start a college without the present professional form of athletics?

"Without professional athletics but with massed athletics; free as a high school in its strictly collegiate fees; efficient as engineers in its functioning; as honest and scientific as a mechanic in grading; as democratic as a family in its social life. These are the qualifying marks of the coming college. Somewhat idealistic, yes; but the general outline of it is surely coming.

"Anyone who stays in college for any length of time cannot help feeling that the atmosphere is somehow strained and the poise of forces badly unbalanced.

"The development of a few select athletes and the utter neglect of all the other students is now a most narrow and selfish practice. It simply fails to reach the ones in need and retain them for their outer life. Inter-collegiate contests need not be eliminated, but the expensive and inefficient practice of developing the student body by numerous contests between selected teams should be abandoned."

INDIANS COME BACK TO DEFEAT PARSONS

Elmore, the southpaw who went on the mound for Saffelle at the beginning of the fifth, proved himself an exceptionally good twirler and is expected to be one of the strongest on the Indians' pitching staff this season. Sanders, the visitors' lanky shortstop played a fine game, making several sensational plays. The playing was ragged, at times, on both sides, but the score was close, and excitement and enthusiasm was manifested throughout the entire game.

Three places are still to be allotted among a number of applicants. In case of withdrawals, additional men will be admitted in the order of their application.

The party will sail from New York on June 3, immediately after the completion of the spring quarter examinations, on the S. S. Republic, of the U. S. Lines. The management of the U. S. Lines has accorded the school segregated quarters on the ship, including a separate dining room, a separate social room and other privileges.

Landing at Southampton, England, on June 13, the group will visit the British Empire Exposition at London and Oxford University. Crossing the Channel, the party will proceed to the chateau country of Touraine, remaining at Tours until the opening of the summer session of the University of Paris on July 1. The group will be at Paris during the Olympic games. A second month will be spent in study at the University of Nancy. In September, the group will travel over the south of France and sail from Bordeaux or a Channel port in time to return to the States before the opening of the autumn session of college.

President Chandler, it is stated, contemplates making this study group in Europe a permanent part of the William and Mary curriculum. For the summer of 1925, plans are being laid to permit of an enrollment of fifty men and women.

OBSERVE JEFFERSON'S BIRTHDAY TOMORROW

his third nomination in 1900 by the narrow margin of 18 votes.

Mr. Lentz is perhaps best known for his active connection with the Loyal Order of Moose, a fraternal organization, and proposed the institution of that organization's vocational and academic home for dependent children of deceased members. He coined the word "Mooseheart," which has been the name of that institution since its founding.

At the exercises tomorrow, Mr. Lentz will speak on some phase of Thomas Jefferson's life and work. As an active member of the Democratic party, and as a student of Jefferson, Mr. Lentz is peculiarly fitted to discuss the life and work of the Father of the Party. His book, "Thomas Jefferson, the Radical," is considered by critics to be one of the greatest books ever written on the life, character and statesmanship of this great Virginian.

Mr. Lentz's reputation as a speaker makes him well worth hearing, and as many students as possible are urged to be present at the exercises.

Addresses of Lost Alumni Are Sought

Since 1888 the college has graduated only 424 men—a rather small percentage of its total number of students. Of these 424 men, all but eighteen are living, unless some of the five listed below are dead.

Of the 238 men who have taken out membership in the Alumni Corporation, only 101 are graduates. The other 75 per cent of our graduates should join. If the college cannot look to this small number of highly selected men who are graduates, how shall it expect the support of its multitude of non-graduates?

If you can give information about the following graduates, whose addresses we do not have, please write us:

Robert Wesley Williams, 1896.
Isaac Basye Marsh, 1900.
Wilbur Robbins Dameron, 1913.
John Dameron Moore, Jr., 1913.
David Orgain Rash, 1917.

Class In Drama To Present Two Plays

English 235 will present for the benefit of the College Library on Tuesday evening, April 22, in the Williamsburg High School Auditorium two one-act plays, "Sham," by Frank G. Tompkins, and "The Pot Boiler," by Alice Gerstenberg—two laugh provoking comedies.

"Sham" is a social satire with many witty turns of phrase and clever unexpected climaxes; while "The Pot Boiler" is a farce whose many humorous situations have never failed to arouse the laughter of its spectators.

Admission charge will be fifty cents. The proceeds from these plays will go to the purchase of modern literature for the Library. The plays are being directed by Instructor Irving H. White.
